Laugh Lines: One-Liners

Sometimes it only takes one sentence to make someone snicker! Which of these witty one-liners is your favorite?

- You know what they say about cliffhangers ...
- Don't you hate it when someone answers their own questions? I do.
- I know they say that money talks, but all mine says is "Goodbye."
- Most people are shocked when they find out how bad I am as an electrician.
- Two fish are in a tank. One says, "How do you drive this thing?"
- It was an emotional wedding. Even the cake was in tiers.
- 6:30 is the best time on a clock, hands down.
- The rotation of Earth really makes my day.
- Are people born with photographic memories, or does it take time to develop?
- The man who invented knock-knock jokes should get a no-bell prize.
- Whiteboards are remarkable.
- Russian nesting dolls are so full of themselves.
- The inventor of the throat lozenge passed away. There was no coffin at his funeral.
- Don't spell "part" backwards. It's a trap.
- I can't believe I got fired from the calendar factory. All I did was take a day off.
- If I got 50 cents for every failed math exam, I'd have $5.30 now.
- People who take care of chickens are literally chicken tenders.
- I can tell when people are being judgmental just by looking at them.

A Cool Head

Baseball caps and visors can shade your eyes from the sun, but for the best protection, choose a hat with a wide brim that covers your face, neck and ears. Beach hats, bucket hats and fedoras are stylish options. You can also find hats made of materials that block UV rays.

Patsy loves her babies!

Ms. Mary having a lovely day!

Memorable Melody: ‘Wipe Out’

When the Surfaris composed this song in 1963 as a B-side to their planned single “Surfer Joe,” they had no idea how big of a splash it would make on the music charts—and in pop culture. Drummer Ron Wilson based his frenzied solos, sprinkled throughout the song, on his high school marching band’s drum cadence, and the rhythm has become one of the most famous drum breaks in history. Also instantly recognizable is the repetitive guitar riff, often learned by aspiring musicians as a classic crowd-pleaser to add to their catalog of tunes. Referring to a gnarly fall from a surfboard when riding a wave, “Wipe Out” has landed on the soundtracks of several films, TV shows and other media.

Brainteaser

Question: If you have three, you have three. If you have two, you have two. But if you have one, you have none. What is it?
Answer: A choice.

“I don’t need a fancy party to be happy. Just good friends, good food and good laughs. I’m happy. I’m satisfied. I’m content.”
—Maria Sharapova

Yankee Doodle Dandies

This Independence Day, tip your top hat to these shining stars who share a birthday with America.

Nathaniel Hawthorne. His novels and short stories are mainstays of early American literature classes, so it's fitting he was born in 1804 on the nation's day of independence.

Calvin Coolidge. To date, he's the only U.S. president with a July 4 birthday. Born in 1872, he served as the country's 30th president from 1923 to 1929.

Gloria Stuart. Born in 1910, she began her acting career in the 1930s and is best known for her role in 1997's "Titanic," for which she earned a best supporting actress Oscar nomination.

Ann Landers and Abigail Van Buren. Did you know these competing advice columnists were identical twin sisters? They were born Esther and Pauline Friedman in 1918 in Iowa.

Bill Withers. The smooth-voiced singer who gave us hits like "Lean on Me," "Ain't No Sunshine" and "Lovely Day" was born in 1938, and served nine years in the U.S. Navy before beginning his music career.

Andrew Zimmern. Born in 1961 in New York, this celebrity chef has spent years introducing TV audiences to "Bizarre Foods" around the country and the world.

Post Malone. He was born in 1995, and like the nation he shares his birthday with, this bestselling artist's music style has been called a "melting pot" of genres, including rap, hip-hop, pop, country and grunge.

Malia Obama. Did having a patriotic birthday prepare President Barack Obama's oldest daughter for life in the White House? Born in 1998, she turned 16 during her father's second term and learned to drive from the Secret Service.

Ann and Franklin!

Sun Tea Inside

Brewing a jug of tea on a sunny porch is a nostalgic summertime activity. You can capture this old-fashioned feeling by making sun tea indoors. Simply place four black tea bags in a quart of cold water, cover, and let sit for 2 to 3 hours. If you want sweet tea, add honey, agave syrup or simple syrup, since liquids will dissolve better in cold water than granulated sugar. Food editors say this cold-brewing method results in a better-tasting tea that's ready for serving over ice.
